You are to create another photo essay using iMovie. This photo essay needs to give the viewer an idea of what a day in your life is like. You will not need to record voice to go along with any of your pictures. You should use your pictures to tell the story instead. You need to have at least 15 pictures. You can do a day in your school life or a full day of your life. You are not to disrupt any classes or leave the school building to take these pictures. You are more than welcome to take a camera home to help capture a day in your life.

Be sure to include emotion and use your creativity when putting together your project. You will be graded on how interesting you make your photo essay. You will be graded not only on the quality of your photographs but the emotion and action that is captured in them. By this stage, you should not have any blurry or dark photos.
